

Laying Table for Communion Services.

Silverware is kept in the safe in the small vestry. The warden or vicar will have the key.

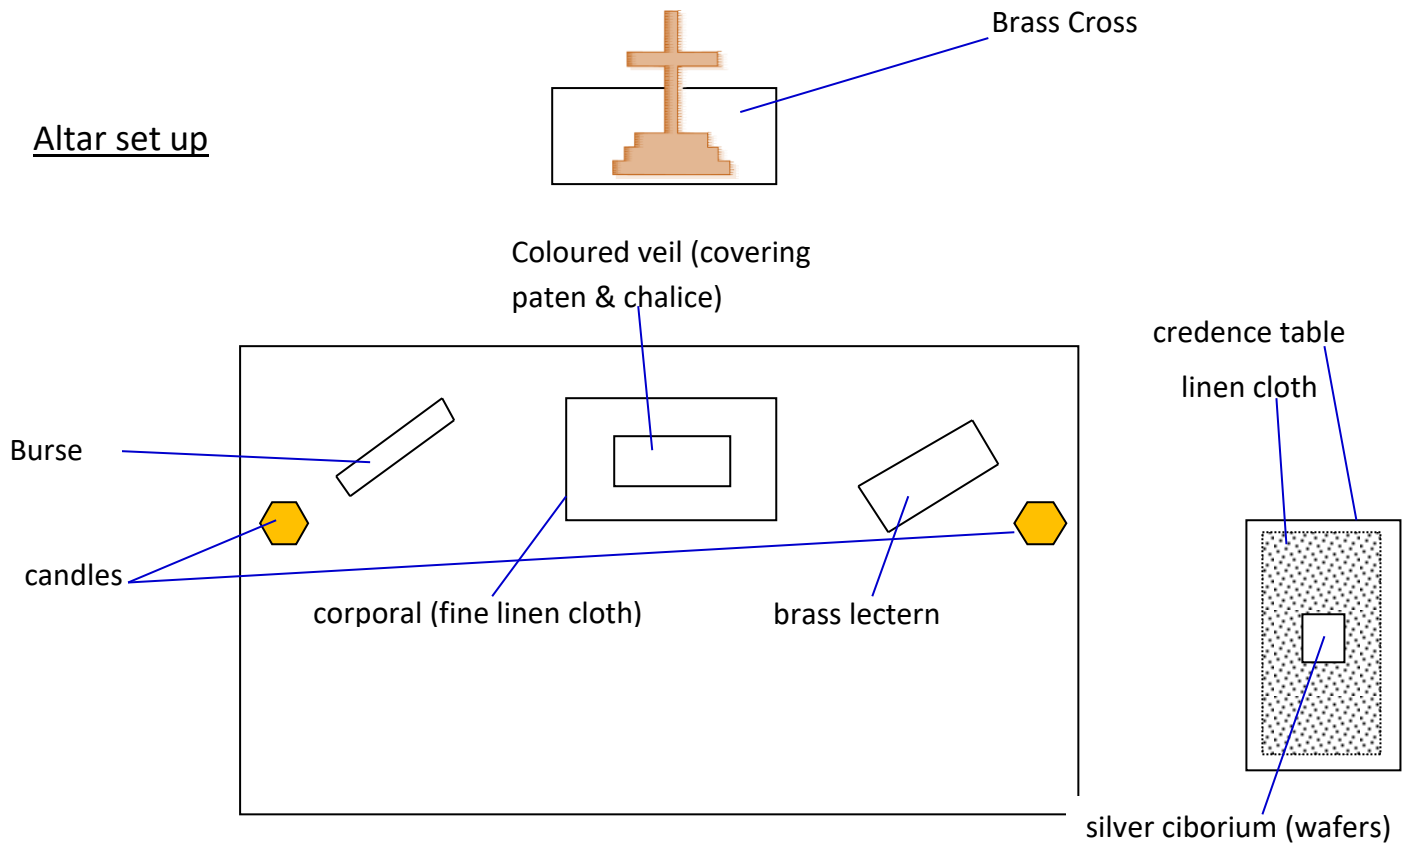

The linen is kept in the drawer behind the table (altar).

Before the service, get the silverware and linen, and lay out the table as shown in the diagram. If there are 2 servers, place the smaller chalice directly behind the larger one towards the back of the table.

Also place a small chalice of non-alcoholic wine on the small table (and be aware who it is for). The small chalice is kept in the safe in the home communion kit. The non-alcoholic wine is with the normal wine and is clearly labelled. Put a small amount in the chalice with a splash of water (enough for one person).

After the service, remove the silverware and linen from the table for washing.
